WASHINGTON.

YESTERDAY'S PROCEEDINGS OF THE FORTY-SIXTH CONGRESS

The President to call an International Sanitary Commission to Meet in Washington.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Senator Withers presented a petition of Low Moore Iron Co. of Virginia for the passage of the Eaton Tarriff Commission bill. Jones of Louisanna introduced a bill extending the operations of the Light House board to the lower Red River in Louisana. On motion of Harris from Tennesee the joint resolution autorizing the President to call an International Sanitary Conference at Washington D. C. was taken up and pased. The Senate then resumed consideration of the bill establishing a retired list for non-commissionod officers. but without action thereon.

HOUSE.

The speaker announced the appointment of Humphreys of Mississippi, as a member of the Committee on Mississippi Levees, vice Caswell of Wisconsin, resigned. On motion of Money, of Mississippi, the Senate amendments to the Post Route bill were concurred in and the House went into a committee of the whole on bill amending the Internal Revenue laws.

Pennsylvania Democratic Convention.

HARRISBURG, PA., April, 29—The Democratic Convention was called to order at half-past 9 o'clock. A special committee on credentials shortly appeared and made report through Mr. Dill. The committee reported that decisions had been arrived at unanimously in each case and in case of contest in Philadelphia while vaux delegation admitted that the McGowen delegates were regularly elected under the established rules of the party, yet for sake of having a united party in Philadelphia, both sides were anxious to secure harmony and concerted action. The committee will therefore meet in Philadelphia at some future day, to make such rules for organization of the democracy in Philadelphia as in thier judgement may be deemed necessary. They will determine what regular organization shall be, and how it is to be made up. Each delegation is to be admited to seats in this Convention and each delegate to cast one-half of one vote through its chairman. Report was then adopted, and roll of delegates called.

R. E. Moneghan was elected permanent president, who delivered an eloquent address on the frauds which the Republican party had perpertrated on the country, and particularly that of the Presidency, four years ago.

Resolutions were adopted in which was pledged the fidelity of the democrats of the State to the principles of the National Democratic party.

A strong protest against the use of troops at the polls was expressed. It destroys the freedom of the election. The aid of all good citizens was invoked against these imperial methods of suppressing right of suffrage.

R. B. Hayes was characterized as representative of a conspiracy and his claim of right to surround the ballot boxes with troops and deputy Marshals to intimidate and obstruct electors and his unprecedent use of the veto to maintain this insult and menace to the country.

T the Democratic party as of old favors to the Constitutional Currency of gold and silver and of paper convertible into coin,

Delegates to Cincinnati were instructed to vote not as a unit and the two thirds clause was abrogated.

General Grant,s Plan

BOSTON, April 27.—General Grant has written a letter stating that he will not be present at the meeting of the Army of the Potomac Society at Bureington. Vt., on the 16th of June. He expects to go to the Rocky Mountains for a few weeks, and will not go east of Illinois before Fall. Joaquin Miller will deliver the poem, and Judge Bdraley, of New-York, the oration.

Cause of the Tay Bridge Slaughter.

LONDON, April 27—At the inquiry before the board of Trade into the Tay Bridge disaster yesterday, Mr. Henry Law, the civil engineer, said that certain portion of the bridge which should have been accurately fitted allowed an amount of play that must have distorted the form of the structure; that if the workmanship had been sufficient, the basis was not, as it was too narrow, and the system of bracing was inadequate.

After a Cuban Blockade Runner.

The recent visit of the Spanish ironclad corvette Sanchez Carceiztequi, for coal. and her sudden departure, was a matter of some speculation among those who notice such movements, but the news from Philadelphia of the sailing of the steamship Tropic, with war munitions for the Cuba insurgents, from the Capes of Delaware, on Thursday last, explains the mystery. The Tropic has been suspected of being engazed in running the Spanish blockade, and on her last trip, ostensibly from Jamiaca, she was followed to her port of destination by a Spanish war vessel, supposed to be our late visitor, who then came in here for coal and probably for further information of the movements of the suspected vessel. The Cuba revolution has broken out again with increased fury, and the Sunta in this country are actively at work sending supplies to their friends in the "Ever Faithful Isle." Among the cargo said to have been taken out by the Tropic is a torpeeo boat to be used against the Spanish navy As the Sanchez Carcaiztegui went to sea on Saturday she will just be in time to catch up with the Tropic somewhere to the eastward of our port, if such a thing is possible.

From London.

LONDON, April 29,—A bottle was picked up at the junction of the rivers Weaver and Mersey, containing a paper inscribed "H. M. S. Atlanta 16th March. Fearful hurricane, Dismasted, Going down fast off lizard." A Cabul dispatch reports an engagement at Aydrabad on 25th inst. between Gen. Ross and the mixed tribes. The enemy was defeated with a loss of 1200. The British loss is unknown.

War between China and Portugal.

LONDON, April 27, 1880.—A dispatch from Lisbon to the Standard this afternoon, says: The Portuguese newspapers assert that Macao is blockaded; that Chinese cruisers have captured seventeen vessels in Portuguese waters, and that in consequnce of these hostile acts the Lisbon Government has telegraphed to Mozambique ordering the corvette Rainha de Portgual to sail immediately for Macao. One journal complains that the Portugese Government has received telegrams from Macao which it withholds from the public.

THE OLIVER-CAMERON CASE.

A New Trial Demanded by the Widow's Lawyers.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 26, 1880.—The Oliver-Cameron case is up in the District courts again, A new trial is demanded by Widow Oliver's lawyers. Mr. Cameron is represented by four lawyers, of whom Gen. Butler is one. Mrs. Oliver's lawyers presented her case to-day. This cases comes up on exceptions, the first being the principal one. This is based on the ruling of the court below in relation to the testimony of A. Graddle, an attorney-at-law, as to communications made to him by plaintiff, and it is submitted that the said communications made to him by the plaintiff in professional confidence and for professional advice, information, or use in her behalf, were privileged, and could not be disclosed without her consent. He could not disclose a communication made to him professionally by plaintiff, either before or after suit was brought, the communications relating to the subject matter of the suit. The others are based on the action of the court—first, in ruling out plaintiff's prayer in that, the absence of express stipulations to marry each other, the jury might infer from their conduct toward each other such stipulations did exist, and they were mutually engaged and promised to each other; second, in ruling out the prayer, that if they believe the parties kept up a written correspondence, they might properly infer a promise of marriage; third, refusing to allow evidence of seduction after promise of marriage, as tending to aggravate the damage, etc.

The New Locomotive.

The new locomotive recently built by the Baldwin Works for the Reading Railroad Company made a formal trial trip from Philadelphia to Jersey City and back, with a train of cars, last week, and successfully made the running time ninety minutes each way. But the engine was sent back to the factory to have some repairs made to the driving wheels, to prevent their slipping on the rails. The maximum speed thus far has been seventy-three miles an hour whereas the contract calls for seventy-five miles, which it is expected will be attained when the difficulties mentioned are overcome. This pioneer engine is expected to become the type of the American locomotive.

The First English Song Set to Music.

Boston Transcript.

The following old English poem is said to have been the first English song ever set to music. It was written about the year 1300, and was first discovered in one of the Harleian manuscripts, now in the British Museum:

"APPROACH OF SUMMER."

"Summer is i-comen in,
Lhude sing cuccu;
Groweth fed, and bloweth med,
And springeth the wode nu,
Sing cuccu.

"Awe bleteth after lomb,
Lhouth after calve cu;
Buleue sterteth, buck verteth
Mur'e sing cuccu;
Cuccu, cuccu;
Wel singes the cuccu;
Ne swik thow nawer nu.
Sing cuccu nu,
Sing cuccu."

A Japanese Student Beheaded.

A few days since it was announced that a Japanese student, recently returned to his country from America, had been beheaded. The people of Easton, Pa., believe that Yoro Yegawa, who graduated at Lafayette College, was the victim. He was a genial, wholesouled, good-hearted fellow; made many acquaintances and friends while at Easton. When he left he promised to write, but his best friends have never received a line. More than two years before graduating he had been ordered home, but declined to go. Subsequently he said the difficulty had been settled; that he was no longer a "Government" student, but supported by his family. Though belonging to the nobility, the family was evidently "under a cloud," as Yegawa had lost an ear—a sign of disgrace.

C. H. Wiley for Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Winston Sentinel.

We are glad to see that the name o Rev. C. H. Wiley is being favorably spoken of throughout the State in connection with the important position of Superintendent of Public Instruction. His long connection wite the educational interests of the State makes him peculiarly fitted for the position. The following from the Central Protestant but speaks the sentiments of the people all over the State:

Rev. C. H. Wiley, of Winston, has been favorably mentioned for State Superintendent of Public Instruction. We most heartily endorse the suggestion. His services in a similar position before the war; his knowledge of our people and their wants; his ripeness of age and scholarship; his strong common sense and long familiarity with the field of text books; his commanding influence with all parties in politics and all sects in religion—these ought to make him strong as a candidate for the position, and we would be glad to see him in it. The cause of popular education needs him, or his equal.

Mr. Vanderbilt Going Abroad Again.

William H. Vanderbilt will probably sail for Europe in the steamship Britannic on Saturday next, and if not then on some White Star steamship before May 15. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Vanderbilt and his two unmarried children, and will remain abroad about four months. He has disposed of 350,000 shares of New York Central and Hudson River Railroad stock, or 50,000 more than one-third of the capital of the company, in the past six months, for an aggregate in round numbers of $2,500,000. This he is reported to have invested in 4 per cent. Government bonds, and by other purchases to have made his total holdings at least $50,000,000, the interest on which amounts to $2,000,000, annually. It is generally estimated that these Governmental bonds do not represent more than one-half of his fortune.

His first visit to Europe, made at the time of the Paris Exposition, was of only six weeks' duration. His son Cornelius, who has recently returned from an extended Continental tour, is understood to have persuaded his father to make the longer journey, which he has decided upon.

New York and Mr. Tilden.

Correspondent Richmond Dispatch.

WASHINGTON D. C. April 27.—Mr. Alfriend returned this morning from New York, where Senator Gordon and himself have been sojourning for several days. He tells your correspondent that the feeling among New York Democrats is very encouraging Tammany Democrats and anti-Tilden men, all avow their purpose to support the nominee of the Cincinnati Convention. He reports that Mr. Tilden is a candidate, and that his friends are confident. Just after I had talked with Mr. Alfriend I learned that Senator Williams, of Kentucky, has received a large nnmber of letters recently, showing a rapid decline in Tilden stock in the State.

ALL AROUND US.

WHAT THE NEWS CORRESPONDENTS SAY.

The Fayetteville Presbytery---A Harmonious Session---Two More Laborers in the Field.

RICHMOND.

LAUREL HILL, April 28th.—You gather news from all quarters but I have not seen lately any letters from this county. Business having called me here for the last few days I have jotted down a few points.

Notwithstanding frosts there is a fair prospect for fruit, and wheat especially looks well. Some blades were reddish and rust was talked of, or feared rather, but there was no actual complaint. Here and there cotton was peeping up, and farmers were very busy.

This is a very pretty farming country, and round about Laurinburg and this point are some farms it would do Colonel Polk or Capt. Alexander good to see. Broad level lands, fairly fertile, and kindly and susceptible of improvement, can be seen on every side and the people live and improve year by year.

Laurel Hill church, about four miles from Laurinburg, is a strong and well known Presbyterian church under the pastoral care of Rev. A. N. Ferguson. The Presbytery of Fayetteville met in this church Wednesday, April 21st, and adjourned Saturday night. The last of the ministers and elders leave to-morrow. There were present every minister in the Presbytery, eighteen in all, besides two or three visitors. There were also between thirty and forty delegates from the churches, and multitudes of visitors. The body was a very dignified and earnest body of christians.

Much of the business was routine and technical, in which outsiders were not interested, but there was also much that attracted the attention of the vast crowds that assembled from day to day. Divine worship was conducted every day at noon and every night. Two young men, Mr. Frank P. Harrell and Mr. L. A. McLean, having completed the theological course and passed satisfactory examinations, were licensed to preach the gospel. Their public exercises were highly appreciated, the trial sermons being preached to large and attentive audiences. Ever so much Latin and Greek and Hebrew was required from them but they stood the tes well. Mr. J. D. Currie, a student at Davidson College, was received under the care of the Presbytery as a candidate for the ministry. Rev. Joseph Evans, of St. Paul's, and Daniel McIntyre, Esq., of Cameron, were chosen to represent the Presbytery at the General Assembly at Charleston in May.

The business of the Presbytery was conducted under the following organization: Rev. N. T. Bowden, moderator, W. J. Stuart, of Carthage, (your confrere of the Index), and D. McIntyre, of Cameron, temporary clerks. Rev. J. P. McPherson, stated clerk. Rev. J. H. Coble was nominated for moderator of the next meeting which will be held at Shoe deel in October.

Fayetteville Presbytery comprises the counties of Robeson, Richmond, Montgomery, Moore. Harnett and Cumberland, and has eighteen ministers, two licentiates, one candidate, and fifty churches, aggregating over 5,000 members. The Sunday schools, reported a membership of about 3000. The contributions reported from the churches aggregated more than $20,000, about $3,000 for benevolent enterprises. Several churches have recently been built or repaired.

The church in which the Presbytery met had recently been retitted, entirely repainted within, carpeted and supplied with new chandeliers, The hospitality of the people was unbounded and cordial. The beautiful grove was a study for a philanthropist, a patriot or a painter, during the intermission for refreshments. The crowds increased daily and Sunday it was estimated that 1500 were in attendance. The church was packed but I do not think it can seat more than eight or nine hundred. Large numbers failed to find seats. The sermon was preached by Rev. H. G. Hill of Fayetteville, with great earnestness, and presented "Christ's Glory the Fruit of His Possession." The Lord's Supper followed, and the solemn services closed about 2 P. M. There was preaching again at night.

There was also divine service every night at Laurinburg by members of the Presbytery. This enterprising place, the seat of the railroad shops of the C. C. railway, shows marks of improvement. Several new houses are going up, and though the busy season with merchants is over, trade has been brisk.

The livery stables have done a good business during the last few days.

HARNETT.

HARRINGTON, N. C. April 1880.—Weather rather cool, wheat looking finely.

In 71st township Cuberland county, last Friday and Saturday respectively, Misses Sallie and Kate, the lovely and accomplished daughters of Capt Dougald McDougald, died of the whooping cough, contracted while at school at Rockfish; the rest of his family are seriously sick with the same disease, and the Captain has the sympathies of the entire community. Whooping cough and measles are very prevalent in that section and very fatal.

Mrs. Margaret Harrington, while walking through the yard last Tuesday night, fell and hurt her breast badly.

Mrs. Neill S. Stewart, of Averasboro, fell out of her house door one day last week and broke her arm.

YADKIN COLLEGE, N. C. April 27, '80.—Mr. Editor: I wish to correct an error, I think I saw in your paper. Hon. D. G. Fowle will not deliver the Literary Address at our Commencement. But D. Craven, President of Trinity College will. Rev. H. A. Brown from Winston, N. C., will preach the Annual Sermon on the 26th of May.

E. B. COZART.

——We think it is high time that the city ordinance prohibiting the unmerciful beating of dumb brutes should be enforced. We saw a driver of a dray to-day club a mule over the head in a manner that would have shamed the lowest savage, and every good citizen would no more than do his duty to promptly report such miscreants to the proper authorities to be dealt with according to law. It has been wisely said the "best friend to brutes is the best friend to man," and he who would maltreat the lowest of God's creatures is unfit to be trusted and unworthy the name of man.

A Scotchman in Brechin, after having spent a year or two in the married state, had the misfortune to loose his wife. No sooner was he bereft of the partner of his cares than he consoled himself with a review of his worldly circumstances. "I had," said he, "but a shilling in my pocket when I was married, and now that my wife is dead I have ninepence, so that I have only lost threepence."

THE FIFTEEN PUZZLE.

A Brooklyn Juror, who Said he had Solved it. Interrupts a Trial to tell about it.

There was a diversion for the court room audience in the Kings County Court of Sessions, yesterday, on the trial of John McCord on a charge of burglary, in the third degree and grand larceny. In summing up for the defence, Lawyer Ridgway compared the conduct of the prosecution to the fifteen puzzle, which he said that Assistant District Attorney Wernberg, after sitting up all night, solved, but could not tell afterward how he did it.

Juror Costantine Tasso, who had shown a new interest in the case at the mention of the fifteen puzzle, excitedly exclaimed, "I did it. I got it right; yet I couldn't tell how I did it."

There was a peal of laughter from the counsel and audience, in which the prisoner could not help joining.

"Did what, Mr. Juror?" seriously demanded Judge Moore. "What did you do?"

"I did it—the puzzle! I got it right!" said the juror, excitedly. And while the audience laughed, he nooded his head at the Assistant District Attorney and repeated: "I did it! I got it right!"

Judge Moore—It is very wrong for you to converse with counsel about the fifteen puzzle.

The Juror (gesticulating)—I know it, your Honor, but I did it; I got it right!

"Will you stop?" demanded Judge Moore, rapping with his gavel. "This is very wrong indeed, and it must stop."

The juror subsided. He voted to convict the prisoner, but the latter's counsel said the vote was due more to a fraternity of feeling with the Assistant District Attorney over having solved the fifteen puzzle than it was the result of belief.

Farmer and Mechanic.

The firm of Julius Lewis & Company is as well known in North Carolina as any firm from New Berne to Charlotte. Their trade aruns to every corner of the State. They have always advertised in the Farmer and Mechanic, have always paid their bills promptly; and though we never admit paid puffs, to these columns. we are always glad to chronicle the growth of our liberal-minded business men.

Julius Lewis & Company started in 1865, upon the idea that a new era was opening in the South, the era of improving machinery, labor saving implement, etc. Following this line, they have kept a full supply of all articles of hardware, tinware and woodware, house trimming, farming and gardening neccessity; to which they have of late added the manufacture of the "All Right" wagon. This wagon, by by the by, seems to be All Right true enough, as about 150 of them have been sold by the firm during the past 12 or 15 months. Messrs. Lewis & Co., have also sold some 2,000 of the "All Right" cooking stove. They also keep in stock enough doors, sash, and blinds to equip a small town of one or two hundred houses. And having shut out the inclement weather, and warmed up the interior, they sell Pratt's Astral, to the amount of 400 barrels or more annually, to furnish cheap, non-explosive light. Messrs. Julius Lewis and Nicholas W. West are rightly esteemed among our first citizens: financially morally, and in all other respects that go to make up honest, enterprising gentlemen. They employ in their various shops more than two dozen men; and have a very popular corpse of salemen in their mammoth Hardware establishment. Mr. Jas B. Upchurch is book-keeper. Mr. W. Carey Norris, of Wake, Mr. N. G. Whitfield, of Franklin, Mr. Walker Hanks, of Chatham, Mr. Graham Haywood, and Geo. V. Strong, Jr., of Raleigh, are always on hand ready to talk trace-chains to the farmer, cooking stoves to his good wife, and "soft sawder" (not of the tinshop kind) to the young folks. These young gentlemen are all "bachelors" at present; but we hear have each picked out an "All Right" cooking stove, a Holloway baby wagon, and other utensils appertaining to every well regulated family. Our best wishes to them and to their employers.

A Western View.

An endorsement by the people of the men who risked their political lives in causing the sale of the Western North Carolina Railroad—enabling the Democratic party to assure the developement of the State,s resources, and, whilst keeping faith with the people of the West, to relieve our people generally from taxation amounting to millions of dollars—and whose agency in binding the West and the East heart and soul together, has saved the Democratic party of the State from impending destruction.—Ral. State Jour,

If that is your plaiform, friend Journal then you ought to hoist the name of Col. Walter Clark for Governor, for we know that he is the man who made the first move that called attention to the heavy taxation for the Western N. C. Road and showed that the State was not able to complete it, which movement eventually resulted in the sale of the Road. His Circular (nick-named the Mud cut Boom) issued last year, had much to do with saving the Democratic party, if it is really saved; and we hope it is. But we presume Col. Clark does not seek or expect the office of Governor.—Char. Dem.

An agent of an accident insurance company entered a smoking-car on a Western railroad train a few days ago and approaching an exceedingly gruff old man, asked him if he did not want to take out a policy. He was told to get out with his policy, and passed on, A few minutes afterward an accident occured to the train causing a fearful shaking to the cars. The old man jumped up and seizing a hook at the side of the car to steady himself, called out. "where is that insurance man?"

Georgs Stewart, a young man of Cincinnati, whose wife had deserted him because he loved whisky better than her, made a desperate attempt at suicide on Monday night. He fired no less than five balls into his head, but the smallness of the pistol, combined with the thickness of his skull, defeated his desperate design. Two of the balls were found flattened against his skull. The others have been probed for, but have not been extracted. As he retains his senses, the injuries are supposed not to be serious.

KUNNEEL VANDERBILT.

ANOTHER SUIT AGAINST HIS BROTHER BILL PROBABLE.

A Pen Picture of the Young Blood in His Luxurious Quarters in the Hoffman House.

Seeing in the papers that the Vanderbilt will matter was likely to be reopened from the beginning on a petition from Cornelius Vanderbilt to get hold of $200,000 which William H. still holds as trustee, I called on the petitioner at the Hoffman House, says a correspondent of the Denver Tribune. There I found him keeping luxurious bachelor's hall in a suit of five rooms on the second floor. This discontented millionaire was longing before a gas fire in a fire-place of polished brass, and the luminous hydrogen darted its blue tongues up through the cast iron embers and shed a cheerful summer over the rich axminster.

On the lounge, in a similarly languid mood, lay Mr. Terry, a genial gentleman with a jolly eye and pleasant voice, with a placid look on his face and three diamond rings on the fingers of his left hand. Mr. Terry is Cornelius' Fidus Achates—and he is understood to be well paid for Fidusachatesing.

"Well," I said, after getting a warm place before the cast-iron fire, "yon are going to have

ANOTHER FIGHT WITH BILL?'

"No, I guess not," said Cornelius, "not unless he is a d(arn)ed fool, for we shall beat him blind. He hasn't any case at all."

"How much did he give you at the time of the withdrawal of your suit?"

"He didn't 'give' me anything; Clinton knows better than to call it a gift; although referred to in our letters as a gift, it was really money transferred in equity. That amount was $1,000,000, beside the $200,000 left me by father."

"Part of it, then, was given to you by William, out and out, and the rest covered by this deed of trust?"

"Yes, that's it," said Mr. Vanderbilt, "he gave me $600.000 in hand and $400,000 in this deed of trust, in which Worcester and Bill are named as my trustees. Now, I like Worcester first rate, for he is a gentleman and friendly to me; but there is no sense in having my money locked up that way. Is there, now? If the money was yours wouldn't you have the management of it, and invest it as you pleased?"

"What was Bill's pretext," I inquired, "for locking up the $400,000 under a deed of trust?"

"Oh, the fools said I'd spend it; throw it away; loose it gambling, you know, and all that. They don't know me. In Wall street some of the dealers call me a shrewd and careful business man. The world will find out after a while that Bill hasn't any brains. I have invested a good deal in stocks and I estimate that I have made $100,000 clear in six months. I am not in want of money by a good deal; I have more than any one man can need; but I don't want to be made to feel the galling chains of dependence by having trustees put over my property, as if or an infant. And I won't have it, either. Yet, you see, in my petition I only ask for $200,000—just half which Bill has invested for me."

I WAS A LUNATIC

"Of course you have money enough yet?" I said.

"Why, certainly! I have enough for any man. But that isn't the point, don't you see? I have a right to manage my own property, instead of being treated like an imbecile. I won't stand it. I can prove that, since I invested a part of my money in Wall street, while I have made here and lost there, I am at least $1,000,000 ahead. Does that show that I am not capable of managing my own estate?"

"I should think not, indeed," replied your correspondent. "You have no doubt had to pay out a good deal of money in settling up those old debts?"

"I should think so!" exclaimed the youth of the Vanderbilt family, crossing his long legs over each other, and smiling inquiringly at Terry. "We should say so, shouldn't we? What will the world say of a man who pays debts long since outlawed, and obligations that have been wiped out by proceeding in bankruptcy? I've paid a good many such debts in the last year. I have been fearfully harrassed in this way—called on to pay debts which there isn't a scrap of paper for, and which I can't recollect anything about. A man called on me awhile ago and asked me if I didn't know him. I said I didn't. "Well, try," said he. I tried ahd couldn't. "Why, Kunneel, I'm so-and-so," said he; "don't you remember, Kunneel, going fishing with me 24 years ago next summer, at such-and-such a place, and you borrowed $80 of me?" I didn't remember anything about it. What could I do? He or even book-account, but trusted to my honor, he said. And he wanted me to pay interest on it, which amounted, he allowed, to $180 more. What could I do? Well, a little girl came in, too, with her alleged aunty. I didn't remember ever seeing the little girl before in my life, or the alleged aunty. 'Is this Mister Vandvilt?' says the little one. 'It is my dear,' says I, 'that's my name.' 'Well,' says she, 'I'm glad. Don't you remember borrowing $150 of my papa 17 years ago last August?' and she told me his name. 'No, little girl,' says I, 'I don't remember it.' 'Well,' says the infant, 'he's dead now and gone to heaven, and I want you to pay me.' She hadn't any note or anything, and I never had any money of any such man; but what could I do?"

HADN'T ANY NOTE OR DUE-BILL,

"You had better draw a line somewhere," said your sagacious and worldly-minded correspondent; "If you pay money to everybody who is willing to ask you for it, I think Bill is clearly right in keeping you under the thumb of a trustee."

"I have drawn a line," he said quickly; "hereafter I don't pay any money to anybody that isn't legally entitled to it."

"So you don't mean to have any row with Bill," I said.

"No, I don't," he replied; "I don't mean to let him do so foolish a thing as to fight me."

"He thinks that, as he gave it to you, he has a right to prescribe the conditions of your having it."

"No, sir! he didn't 'give' it to me. It was rightfully mine, and legally, too."

"Suppose he should refuse to let up on the trusteeship?"

"Then you'd see a lively muss, I'm afraid."

Then he told me privately and confidentially some things that he could show up about Bill and the Vanderbilt family, if he felt so disposed; some things that I can't by any means repeat, but which, if they ever come out in court, will make a sensation everywhere.

"I feel kindly toward Bill," Corneel, in conclusion, "but I won't be abused or suffer degradation at his hands. And don't you forget it!"

American Charity In Rome.

The late Dr. James B. Gould, of the United States navy, who was for a long time the popular American physician in Rome, left the sum of $25,000 for the establishment of an institution in the Eternal City which had been founded by his wife. The institution is known as the Gould Memoriam Home and Schools, but as the provisions of Dr. Gould's will do not specify in what way the current expenses of the Home shall be paid, a meeting of the New York Ladies' Association was recently held for the purpose of appealing for subscriptions to meet such expenses. Dr. Howard Crosby, who presided, read an interesting letter from the president of the home, describing the nature of the missionary work and the opposition met by the workers in the institution. A strong appeal was made for a return to be offered Rome for the benefits it had conferred upon the religious world by its religious organization and religious literature. The Home, it was said, had been founded exactly as such institutions have been founded in the United States. A woman had seen something to do and had accomplished it. Her motherly heart had yearned over the children of Rome, and she had tried to help them, and from this the Home had grown up. Mrs. Gould believed that if she took the children and gave them good thoughts and ideas to grow up with they would become men of a better type and would be freed from the slavery of hierarchy. While it was admitted that there were many adventurers abroad who lived upon what they gathered under the pretence of working for Protestanism, it was claimed that the truest and best kind of work was going on in the Gould Home. It was a motherly kind of work, and deserves the warmest sympathy and help.

A Bashful Young Man.

Not many miles from San Juan (Cal.) not more than 15, resides a young farmer who is not over 25 years of age. He has considerable of the requsite the coin. Up to within a very short time he had led a very lonely life, but, thanks to the year 1880, which has proved his salvation, a young lady has proposed to him and he is now enjoying her society as his wife. The young man had every qualification for a good business man, but, notwithstanding all this, was extremely bashful, and blushed clear to his ears every time he caught sight of a young lady. Moreover he imagined he was a fright to behold, and no girl would condescend to look with favor upon him. In fact, it was his opinion that he was destined to lead a life of single blessedness all the days he might wander about on this terrestrial sphere. One day, however, he stoped as the house where resided a lovely girl. She had seen how shy he was on every occasion, and became infatuated with the pedler of apples and garden truck, and was determined that the ice should be broken, as leap year had arrived, which gave her every privilige in this particular granted to the sterner sex. The young lady, therefore, walked up to him, as he stood by the well, and, calling the young man by his given name, asked him why he did not get married. He replied with characteristic non-esteem that he didn't think there was anybody who would have him. "Why," replied the young lady with great fervency, "why I will have you." The young man turned red and stammered by turns, but finally he did manage to tell her "All right." Arrangements were made at once for the marriage ceremony, and in less than a week they were living together as man and wife, happy as birds in a nest.

Female Beauty Here and Abroad.

(St. Louis Republican)

In fact, female beauty is a rarity in every other country in the world except this favored land. We leave out of question the German, Russian and Scandiavian nations, for there beauty is almost a myth. In Italy there is a stately beauty of form and the richness of color among the peasants, accompanied by a stolid impassiveness; the vaunted beauties of Spain are dumpty little women, with sallow faces and no intelligence. In Vienna alone, of all the great cities in Europe, beauty is as common among women as it is in St. Louis and Baltimore, and there the beauty comes from the Hungarians, across the river. In Paris there is a type of female beauty, dainty as the hothouse exotic, which it resembles rather than the blooming rose bud of an American cottage garden.

Arranging for the Dog Show.

The managers of the Westminister Kennel Club Bench Show are not positive as to when the coming exhibition will be held. The postponement on account of the disaster at Madison Square Garden has put them to additional expense, and they are now trying to make satisfactory aarangements with Mr. Vanderbilt. It is not expected that any agreement will be reached until until after the close of the Coroner's inquest. If Mr. Vanderbilt does not agree to the terms offered by the managers, it is possible that the show will be held in the American Institute Building. The list of entries is now so large that no more applications can be entertained Sir William Verner and other foreigners interested in the show will probably come to this country, as the postponement will give them ample opportunity to get here in time.

Sitting Bull's Reinforcement.

Washington Star.

Officers on duty at the War department do not discredit the report that Sitting Bull has affected an alliance with the Indian tribes known as Black feet, River Crows and Mountain Crows. It has been the policy of the military authorities to keep themselves posted about Sitting Bull's movements, and to keep the troops in the northwest disposed so as to be ready to head his band off if they attempted any raid on United States soil. The indications, from informations received, are that Sitting Bull has been quietly reinforced his forces, arms and ammunition. with a view to a spring raid. The United States government has, despite the efforts of the British and Canadian authorities, adhered to its original position when Sitting Bull crossed the line, which is that when Canada gave him a place of refuge she became responsible for him, If he should despend upon the frontier settlements and cause damage, there would be another case of Alabama claims.

We wish to say to our readers that Dr. Price's Special Flavoring Extracts of Rose, Almond, Nectarine, Vanilla, Lemon etc., are the finest, purest, and most natural flowers we have ever used. The common flavoring extracts in the market bear no comparison for fine flavor to Dr. Price's.

DANIEL McFARLAND.

ONCE RICH AND POWERFUL IN NEW YORK.

Now Penniless and Friendless, Dying Among Strangers in a County Alms House.

Among the invalids who assemble regularly every morning in the little chapel at St. Vincent's Hospital, to send thanks on high for earthly blessings, says the Leadsville (Col.) Democrat of the 20th inst, is a man who once occupied the highest position in wealth and influence at the national metropolis. He owned long rows of costly dwellings and business blocks, and in his presence Governors, judges, senators and even the President of the United States uncovered their heads. Daniel McFarland once wielded an influence in nationrl politics, but he shot Albert D. Richardson, and now he sits dozing in the large ward at the sister's hospital in the city, a pensioner upon the county, and quite unknown and forgotten. He was pointed out to a reporter yesterday, who picked his way in among the cots to the one where the mighty fallen sat, and said:

"Mr. McFarland?"

"Hi!—so—me? What?"

"This is Mr. Daniel McFarland, I believe?"

"Oh, my name. Yes, yes. Daniel McFarland. That is it."

"You once lived in New York, Mr. McFarland?"

"Yes, sir, I recollect it. I did once lived in New York."

"If my memory serves me correctly you were once very wealthy in that city?"

"I was in quite comfortable circumstances at one time, sir."

"An editor, I believe, an associate on the Tribune with Horace Greeley?"

"Not exactly that; although I have been often credited by the papers with occupying an editorial position on the New York Tribune, it is a mistake, Mr. Greeley was a warm, personal friend of mine, and several years I was in the habit of writing more or less for his paper, but not as a salaried editor, I was above writing for pay at that time. My income was ample from other sources."

"You must have been intimately acquainted with many of the great men of a quarter of a century past."

"Yes, sir, I was on quite intimate terms with William H. Seward, Daniel Webster, Stephen A. Douglass, Abraham Lincoln and—well, I knew them all and have often entertained them at my house in New York,"

"Are you personally acquainted with Senator Conklin."

"I know the senator quite intimately, although his rapid rise commenced after my fall. I knew him in the New York Legislature, and I knew him at the bar. I knew him as a spread-eagle lawyer and polititian."

"Mr. McFarland, I saw by a St. Louis paper that you were writing a book entitled 'Eleven Months in Leadsville"

"Yes; I saw it in the papers, but did not know it before."

"You look quite feeble."

"My health is not good."

"Do you hear often from your wealthy New York friend?"

"I hear from no one."

"Are you comfortable here?"

"A pauper on the country could not expect more."

"You are penniless?"

"Penniless and friendless, dying among strangers in a country almshous in the wilds of the Rocky Mountains"

"But you may re—"

"No, I never wish to leave this place; I am tired of this life, and am only wating a summons to go thither."

Plenty of Riflemen.

There are plenty of applicants now for positions on the American rifle team to go to Ireland in June and shoot in the international long-range match. When this long-range shooting was first introduced at Creedmoor, New Yorkers having the only range for practice, furnished the members of the team, and New Orleans having established ranges and produced riflemen, some of whom at least are likely to displace an equal number of the New York riflemen who have heretofore carried off the honors. Philadelphia is about to get a range similar to that at Creedmoor.

DAILY NEWS

FRIDAY, APRIL 30, 1880.

GEO. C JORDAN, Editor and Prop

THE rapid growth of the British iron-clad fleet is illustrated by some figures just furnished by the First Lord of the Admiralty. On the first of April, 1874, of ironclad ships fit to go into action there was 101,041 tons. These ships were moved by 74,908 indicated horse-power, and they had guns which at one discharge could throw 37,000 pounds of metal. At the present time the total tonnage of the ironclad fleet is 273,000, the horse-power 195,000, the weight of metal which can be thrown at one discharge 111,000. In other words, the British ironclad fleet has more than doubled in offensive and defensive power within the past six years.

THE Dublin Irish Times asserts that despite the starvation and famine prevailing in Ireland large quantities of Irish seed potatoes are being shipped every day from that island to Lancashire, Yorkshire and Wales, one line of steamers alone taking an average of eighty tons daily. Strangest of all is the fact, which the Times says it can easily prove, that these potatoes come from those very districts, Mayo and Galway, wherein the want, suffering and starvation are greatest. The Times declares that this is done by speculators, and calls for some law to prohibit the exportation of food from a country which has not enough now for its own support. In more than one instance these speculators have been caught in the very act of sending these potatoes out of the country, and the people, indignant at this course, have become threating and aggressive.

IT is only a few weeks since we were told that Sitting Bull and his tribe were coming in to surrender, and the only question at the War and Interior Departments was, what disposition to make of the captives. It now appears the War Department has information that the old warrior and his band only stooped to conquer. An alliance is rumored to have been formed by Sitting Bull with the Blackfeet, who hunt on both sides the Canadian border, and comprise the Piegans, Creeks and other bands, and also with the tribes called the River, and Mountain Crows, who either roam from the Wind River mountains to the Missouri, or are settled on poor reservation west of Nebraska. Some of these Indians have been on the war path of late years, but many have done good service as scouts and some were killed in Custer's battle on the Rosebud, bravely fighting by the side of Custer's men.

COUNT DELESSEPS seems to be a very sanguine sort of person, and over credulous withal. He has returned to Europe fully convinced of the success of his Panama canal scheme and highly pleased with his reception in this country, which was chiefly remarkable for a reaffirmation of the Monroe doctrine on all sides and outspoken hostility to his plan. Among other things he appears just certain capitalists in Boston gave him the most substantial encouragement; in fact, pledged themselves to subscribe $60,000,000. It seems that what really occurred was this: When Count DeLesseps asked the Boston men to subscribe they assured him that they would think about it. Upon this unsubstantial basis it appears that the Count has erected a very substantial subscription. If his European subscribers have not assumed a more tangible form than those in America it is safe to say that there is no pressing occasion to evoke the Monroe doctrine.

A MISTAKEN idea generally prevails that the manufacture and consumption of beer is mainly confined to Europe and the United States. On the contrary, in some form or other it is manufactured and consumed far more universally than even many suppose. A drink, known as chica, or beer called cinct, was repared and used by the natives of South America long before the advent of the Spaniards. The malt so prepared is bruised, treated with warm water and set aside until fermentation has ceased. The corn malt, primitive and unpleasant, is chewed by the natives in the valleys of the Sierra, and the chewed morsel placed in jars with hot water, when fermentation becomes more rapid. The chica beer is also produced from barley rice, peas, manioc, pines and grapes. The Crim Tartars manufacture beer from millet seed and call it bouza, while the same seed is used on the northern slopes of the lower Himalayas, and yields a beer known as murwa. In Russia a beer is prepared from rye and called quass. The Arabians, Abyssinians and numerous African tribes compound beer of teff and millet seed. The Tartars use milk beer, made of fermented mare's or camel's milk. The Arabians use the milk to produce their leban, and the Turks use it to make the yourt. In the Orkneys and some parts of Ireland, buttermilk is permitted to stand until it ferments, and is then drank. The South Sea Islanders make a beer—ava—from the intoxicating long pepper, and enjoy it hugely. From these facts it will be seen that beer under many names, and prepared in many ways, is well nigh a universal beverage.

THE scope of the inquiry into the alleged outrage of the colored cadet Whittaker at West Point has been suddenly enlarged by the arrest of Phil. Ryan, the inn keeper at Highland Falls, on a charge of perjury. The arrest, it is stated, was made by order of United States District Attorney Woodford, and Ryan has been taken to New York and lodged in Ludlow street jail. Ryan testified before the court of inquiry at West Point that none of the cadets were in the habit of coming surreptitiously to his saloon or leaving their clothes or changing them there. On the other hand, some of the cadets, it being assured by Gen. Schofield that if any of them had been guilty of such a breach of discipline no notice would be taken of it if they admitted the fact before the court, swore that they did go to Ryan's place and other witnesses testified to having seen them there. The arrest of Ryan will bring the Whittaker case before the United States Circuit Court and it is the theory of Whittaker's friends that a conspiracy to perpetrate the outrage upon Whittaker was planned by certain of the cadets at Ryan's place, and that Ryan was cognizant of it. It may remembered that all the cadets at West Point have been examined before the court, and all of them swore that they neither took part in the outrage nor knew of any one who did.

IN September, 1879, the Chicago Tribune began some abbreviations in common spelling, under the title of reform, its editor-in-chief, Mr. Joseph Medill, being a strong advocate for a new system of orthography. The changes aimed chiefly at the elimination of certain superfluous endings of words that had been imported into the language from the French, such as ue in dialogue, catalogue, pedagogue, etc., where the preceding vowels is short; the dropping of the final e in such words as definite and favorite, and the final te in cigarette, quartette, etc., and the change of ph to f in phonetic, philosophy, phantom etc. Last Sunday the Tribune published letters from one hundred representative men, including twenty presidents of leading colleges and forty-five principals of educational institutions, all favoring the new spelling which has also been adopted by the Utica Herald, the Toledo Blade, the Library Journal the Princeton Review, the New York Independent, and a number of newspapers less widely known. The English language is no doubt incumbent by a load of useless silent letters, but it will take a large amount of education to reconcile the masses of the people to all the changes proposed.

Fate of the Czars.

The Russian proverb which predicts evil for the reign of any Czar which overpasses 25 years has been curiously sustained by the facts of history. Ivan the Terrible enjoyed 50 years of prosperity on the imperial throne. In the 26th year of his reign his troubles began. His conquests were wrested from him, he lost three successive wives, and his son and heir was murdered. Peter had 25 years of substantial prosperity, but the 10 closing years were shrouded in gloom. Alexander I was among the most fortunate of sovereigns until he had crossed the fatal line. In the 26th year of his reign the river Neva overflowed frightfully, St. Petersburg was threatened with destruction, and a widespread conspiracy was formed against the Czar himself. He left his capital, sick at heart, to die in the distant Climes. His brother, Nicholas, began the Crimean war in the 26th year of his reign, and so lost his prestige, and soon thereafter his life. Finally, it was as he approached the end of a quarter century on the throne that disasters began to thicken around the present Czar. The news of his violent death would not now be anywhere received with surprise, so great is the internal order of his dominion.

Cuticura

REMEDISE

Have Achieved the most noted success of any Medicines of Modern Times.

Messrs. Weeks & Potter have never doubted the specific properties of Cuticura, Cuticura Resolvent, and Cuticura Soap, for the speedy, permanent, and economical cure of Humors of the Blood, Skin and Scalp. They are, however, astonished at their universal success; for it was to be expected that in the hands of some they would fail solely from spasmodic or ignorant use of them.

They are enabled to say without fear of contradiction that no remedies ever achieved in the short space of one year the number of wonderful cures performed by the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

SALT RAHUM,

Covering the Body for Ten Years, Permanently Cured.

LAW OFFICE OF CHAS. HOUGHTON, 17 Congress Street, Boston, Feb. 28, 1878.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—I feel it a duty to inform you, and through you all who are interested to know the fact, that a most disagreeable and obstinate case Salt Rheum or Eczema, which has been under my personal observation from its first appearance to the present time,—about ten (10) years,—covering the greater portion of the patient's body, and limbs with its peculiar irritating and itching scab, and to which all the known methods of treating such disease had been applied without benefit, has completely disappeared, leaving a clean and healthy skin, under a few days of profuse application of CUTICURA.

I can and do heartily advise all similarly afflicted to try the remedy which has been so effectual in this case.

Very truly yours,
CHAS. HOUGHTON.

Liver Complaint.

And Dyspepsia Treated by the Resolvent, Gains 5 1-2 pounds on One Bottle.

GENTLEMEN,—I have had Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, with running sores on the side of my neck, for ten years. Doctors did no good. I have been spending for eight years and it did me no good. Everything I ate distressed me. I got reduced from 179 to 132 pounds. At last I tried the RESOLVENT and it helped me right off, and on one bottle I gained five and one-half pounds. It is doing the business, and I am going for it strong.

Yours truly,
JOHN H. ROY
114 Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill., Nov. 15, 1878.

NOTE.—Cuticura is admirable assisted in cases of extreme physical weakness, or when the virus of Scrofula is known to lurk in the system, by the internal use of the Cuticura Resolvent, without doubt the most powerful blood purifier and liver stimulant in the world.

Cuticura Soap is an elegant toilet and medicinal assistant to Cuticura in the treatment of all external ailments. For chapped hands, rough skin and tan, sunburn, and the lesser skin troubles, it is indispensable; as a soap for the toilet, the nursery and bath it is the most elegant, refreshing, and healing before the public.

These great remedies succeed where all others heretofore in use fail because they possess new and original properties never before successfully combined in medicine.

The Cuticura Remedies are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, Boston, and sold by all Druggists. Price of Cuticura, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, containing two and one-half times the quantity of small, $1. Resolvent, $1 per bottle. Cuticura Soap, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; 3 cakes, 78 cents.

STARVATION IN IRELANND. No fear of that while we offer the present inducement. Agents can make $30 weekly, and it will be their own fault if they do not clear $50. address PHOENIX ESTABTISHMENT, 182 Fulton, St., New York.

Harris by Benjamin F. Cheatham and James, a Cheatham, in a mortgage deed bearing date the 31st day of October A. D., 1873, and on record in the office of the Register of Deeds of Wake county. Said store house is situate on the corner of market square, on Wilmington street, fronting market square, and running though from market square to the next street. It is the store house in which B. Said house and lot will be sold under a decree of the Superior Court of Wake county, subject to the confirmation of court and no possession to be given until the sale of the property is confirmed, and the purchaser complies with the terms of sale. THE OVAL CAKE is the most economical form of Washing Soap. All bar or square cakes wear down in use to a large flat piece, too thin to handle and, therefore, wasted; while the OVAL CAKE of

COLGATE & CO'S

"NEW" SOAP can be cut in two, the oval end clasped readily in the hand, and the larger end worn down almost to a wafer without any waste. COLGATE & CO. recommend their

"NEW" SOAP

(Trade-Mark Registered) to Careful Housekeepers, not only as superior in quality, but as in form the most economical Soap now made.

Weather Report.

WASHINGTON, April 30

South Atlantic States veering to South East winds warmer cloudy weather with rain, falling barometer.

——Cotton was again "sick" on yesterday, and "off" several "points."

——Revenue receipts yesterday amounted to $7, 155, 94.

——Cotton was quiet as usual yesterday, closing at 11 ¼ cents for middlings.

——A meeting of the Republicans of the city is called for at 8 o'clock tonight.

——We regret to learn that Mrs. T. H. Shelby was extremely ill on yesterday.

——175,000 were deposited in the Haw River yesterday by Mr. Geo H. Williams, of the fish commission.

——The sidewalk between Pescud's and Otey's on Fayetteville Street is in a woeful condition.

——Commissioner Polk has returned from Avoca where he has been to overlook the extensive fish hatcheries of the place.

Notwithstanding the extreme inclemency of the weather, there was a good attendance at the revival services at Metropolitan Hall last night.

——Our excellent Treasurer, Worth with his popular son Mr. T. C. Worth leaves to day for a short visit to their home in Randolph County.

——Rev. Dr. Teasdale is conducting a series of revival meeting in Durham N. C. which we learn are characterized by the same impressiveness that distinguished his labors in this city.

——We have received the Quarteely Report ending March 31s 1880, of the Superintendent of the N. C. Insane Asylum, a more extended notice of which will be given soon.

——W.H. Holleman, Esq., and his accomplished bride returned to the city yesterday, after an extended Northern tour, and took up their residence at his beautiful surburban home.

——The venerable and beloved Dr. Teasdale, who for several weeks labored so faithfully at the Salisbury Street Baptist Church in this city, is conducting a series of meeting at Durham, where his labors will no doubt be greatly blessed.

——Now it is discovered that there ain't a fraction of phosphorus in fish. And those people whom we have known as fish eaters and have been regarded as marvels of wisdom are only blamed fools after all. Oh, if is dreadful.

——The revival meeting of the Second Baptist Church in Metropolitan Hall under the management of Rev. Mr. Nelson have not abated in interest. The attendance is large and the feeling manifested is of the most earnest, though not excitable character. A large number of converts have already been added to the list and new faces are seen in the enquiry room each night.

Agents Wanted.

Messrs Alfred Williams and Co. desire an agent in every county of the state to sell "Moore's Complete History of North Carolina," and ask persons wanting an agency to write for terms &c., giving reference.

The Tax on Liquor Dealers.

The State Treasurer has given a construction of an act passed at the recent special session of the General Assembly reducing the tax on liquor dealers. The Act reduced the purchase tax in sec. 10, Schedule B., to two and one-half per cent, and the license taxes in sec. 11, to two dollars and fifty cents per month on retailers of spirituous liquors, and two dollars per month on retailers of malt liquors only.

The following is the opinion of the Treasurer and concured in by the Attoney General.

"Section 3 of the act provides 'that this act shall not be construed to impair the effect of the said revenue act (of 1879) for the present fiscal year.' As the fiscal year expires on the 30th day of September, the reductions do not take effect until after that date, and all purchases made, or licenses issued, before the first day of October next, are subject to the taxes under the revenue act of March, 14, 1879, and the provision in the amendatory act giinvg it effect 'after the first day of July 1880' taken in connection w th section 3, as above, fixes the time at October 1st 1880."

Give it to the children. Physicians prescribe it, Thousands use it. Sold by Druggists. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Price 25 cents.

Good Advice.

Before buying a sewing machine be sure to always ask if it has a steel cam, and if the salesman says, that it has, just ask him to take off the front plate and prove it. The New Home is the only machine that has a steel cam.

Happy Results.

Thinking of buying a Light-Running New Home Sewing Machine. J. L. Stone, General Agent, Raleigh, N. C.

Robert P. Smith, Chilesburg, Va., writes: "As for Tutt's Pills I don't know how I could do without them. I have had the Liver disease over twenty years. Two years ago I got your pills. They have entirely cured me. I always keep them. My neighbors know I have them and send to me for them. They always speak in the highest terms of them."

Mrs. Winslow's Soothins Syrup.

Rev. Sylvanus Cobb thus writes in the Boston Christian Freeman—We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly for infants. But of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup we can speak from knowledge; in our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains, quiet sleep, and the parents unbroken rest at night. Mothers parently can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless; for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button."

And during the process of teething, its value is incalculable. We have frequently heard mothers say that they would not be without it from the birth of the child till it had finished with the teething siege, on any consideration whatever. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle.

This is not a KING CURE-ALL. But is only good for Neuralgia and Headache. For these troubles it is the only specific known. Sold by all the leading druggists.
